WHAT IS BENDIGO HERITAGE ATTRACTIONS ALL ABOUT?

We preserve, restore, and share the stories of some of Bendigo's most significant heritage sites, including:

CENTRAL DEBORAH GOLD MINE

Operating commercially from 1939-1954, Central Deborah produced 929kg of gold and was the last mine of the gold rush era to cease operations on the wealthy Bendigo Goldfields. Descending to the depths of Bendigo, you are sure to catch gold fever on a fascinating underground tour.

BENDIGO TRAMWAYS

Operating since 1890. Bendigo Tramways is now Australasia's largest tourist tramway, is home to the oldest operating tram depot in Australia and operates the best working collection of heritage trams in the world. Bendigo Tramways was named Australia's Cultural Tourism Attraction of the Year for 2016.

BENDIGO JOSS HOUSE TEMPLE

This heritage-listed Chinese place of worship was constructed in the 1870s and is the oldest Chinese place of worship on its original site in Australia. It is red to symbolise happiness, strength and vitality, is still a practising temple, and gives great insight into Chinese culture.
